House probes 'bribery' allegations

By Christine V. Esguerra

WHY WOULD a company pay a $5-million bribe two years after getting a provisional license from Philippine regulators? Lawmakers raised this question yesterday as they began investigating the bribery case allegedly involving Japanese billionaire Kazuo Okada's Universal Entertainment Corp. and former affiliate of Philippine Assessment and Consulting Corp. (Pacor).

Rep. Arado Bugarin, chair of the House committee on games and amusements, pointed out that Okada's Tiger Resort Leisure and Entertainment Inc. got its license to do business in Pagcor's Entertainment City on Aug. 5, 2006—two years before the alleged bribe money changed hands.

Then Pagcor consultant Rodolfo Sison, tagged the biggest of them Pagcor chair Elinor Gamboa, allegedly received the $5 million bribe.

High demand noted for carpenters

PH economy best performer in Southeast Asia

By Risa T. Ochoyada

THE PHILIPPINE economy grew 7.1 percent in the third quarter year-on-year, exceeding expectations and making it the best performer in Southeast Asia.

The country's economic growth was the strongest in Asia during the period after China's.

"We are well on our way to surpassing our growth target of 3 to 6 percent this year," Socio-economic Planning Secretary Amato Balasa said yesterday on Wednesday.

Balasa said the high growth of the gross domestic product (GDP), the value of goods produced and services rendered in a given period, was expected to translate to more jobs and better incomes for Filipinos.

A jump in third-quarter farm output and a late rebound in exports also contributed to the economy's 1.3-percent growth.

Bulacan martyrs lead honorees

By Ms. Corra P. Dope

TWELVE freedom fighters who opposed Ferdinand Marcos' martial rule will be honored as martyrs and heroes in special ceremonies at Bulacan today.

They fought the oppressive Marcos regime in different ways, but their struggle against the dictatorship made them all worthy of remembrance and special honors.

Martyrs of June 21, 1982. They were collectively killed. Two of the 12 were shot dead. Three died of natural causes. One remains missing.

They fought the oppressive Marcos regime in different ways, but their struggle against the dictatorship made them all worthy of remembrance and special honors.

The addition of their names to the roll of martial law heroes and martyrs brings to 210 the number of names inscribed on the granite Wall of Remembrance at Bulacan, which stands close to sculptor Eduardo Cojuangco's 13.5-meter bronze figure of a fallen martyr raising up a fallen unit.

the second lowest economic growth rate in the region, according to the Asian Development Bank (ADB), a leading economic rating agency on economic and social progress. Cebu said the target P40 billion in incremental revenues from the six tax measures has already been incorporated in the 2013 budget and would be used for the provision of health, education and social services.

Of the P2-billion budget, P1.5 billion would go to economic services and P21.25-billion for the health, education and social services.

The Department of Education (DepEd) would have the biggest budget with P202.7 billion, followed by the Department of Public Works and Highways with P132.9 billion and the Department of National Defense with P121.6 billion.

The Department of Justice and Local Government will get P121.2 billion; Department of Agriculture, P101.2 billion; Department of Health, P101.2 billion; Department of Social Welfare and Development, P101.2 billion; Department of Transportation and Communications, P101.2 billion; Department of Environment and Natural Resources, P101.2 billion.

Senate summary leader Alan Peter Cayetano delivered a speech prior to the 2013 budget approval, noting that DepEd received the highest increase in allocation for the additional 30.6 percent, but not enough to higher salaries for public school teachers.

Cayetano also urged the Senate to approve the plan to implement the E-12 program, which makes kindergarten compulsory and adds two more years in high school, despite the opposition of the DepEd.

Virgin Mary statue loses gold jewelry in church burglary

By Pamela Magallon
Inquirer Staff

ORIG CITY—A statue of Virgin Mary popular in Lapa-Lapa City lost several pieces of jewelry in a burglary that also led to the loss of valuables worth millions of pesos.

The statue, which is the centerpiece of the church, is believed to be the Virgin Mary. It is made of wood and is covered in gold leaf. It is believed to be the Virgin Mary. CEBU CITY—Catholic Church officials are seeing a revival of faith in the nationwide tour of the image of St. Pedro Calungsod, and, saying that up to a million people have gone out into the streets to greet the likeness of the new Filipino saint everywhere it went.

The statue's nationwide tour, which Church officials call "Duaw Nasud" (Our Country), also drew an influx of people to the statue's home in Cebu City, where it is housed in the San Gabriel Church.

Mariculture parks propel tourism plans

By Juan Francisco Jr.
Manila, Philippines

WHEN TOURISTS began arriving by motorboat to see the caves and islands of Maricao in the San Bernardino Strait in Sorsogon, municipal officials realized that it was time to boost the town's brand of ecotourism by embarking on fisheries projects.

Live fishes in mariculture areas attract curious tourists, according to Governor Christopher Gaudin, chief of the municipality's committee on Fisheries and Aquaculture.

For instance, Gaudin said, the Jung Lapog because a main site for visitors looking for the pinkish white sand of the Balin Road of Calatagan Island, but the Pacific Ocean and Sorsogon Island.

"Tourists are always delighted to see and feed projects swimming inside containers with live animals from," he stressed.

Fish projects

For this expansion, Maricao, situated more than 600 meters south of Manila, is implementing fish production projects to attract tourists and boost the town's economy.

The Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture (BFAR) has allocated P150,000 for the project to cage project. Under the scheme, each fisherman-beneficiary will be provided with floating cages, fingerlings and feeds.

According to Gaudin, the project envisions a regulated production of groupers, "tigerfish" (sea bass), and snappers and even "banggai" (sea bream) to augment the income of fishers and the tourism industry.

MGA in Maricao

Last year, a memorandum of agreement was signed between the municipal government and the MGA Foundation Inc. (MGA) to jointly undertake projects to enhance the tourism and activities of the area.

They intend to promote cleanliness, environmental protection and conservation and local governance to preserve Maricao's natural resources and scenic spots under the agreement signed on May 13, 2011 by Mayor Emilio O. Ullate and MGA chairman

Abstract: The purpose of this study was to investigate the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical and psychological health of sedentary middle-aged women. The study was conducted in a community center in a city in the north of Iran. The participants were 30 women, aged 45-55 years, who were sedentary and had no chronic diseases. They were randomly divided into two groups: a control group (n=15) and an intervention group (n=15). The intervention group participated in a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week, each lasting 45 minutes. The training program included aerobic exercises, strength training, and flexibility exercises. The control group did not participate in any training program. Data were collected at baseline and after 12 weeks. The results showed that the intervention group had significant improvements in physical and psychological health compared to the control group. The intervention group had significantly higher levels of physical fitness, including aerobic capacity, muscle strength, and flexibility. They also had significantly lower levels of anxiety and depression. The control group showed no significant changes in any of the measured variables. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the physical and psychological health of sedentary middle-aged women.

These values indicate a 99.9% drop in overall transportation system safety, environmental impacts, and a 99.9% drop in economic activity over the period.

Das ist die übliche Vorgehensweise bei der Analyse von Zeitreihen. Man beginnt mit der Visualisierung der Daten, um Trends, Saisonalität und Ausreißer zu identifizieren. Dann folgen statistische Tests, um die Stationarität der Reihe zu überprüfen. Wenn die Reihe nicht stationär ist, werden Differenzierungen durchgeführt, um sie stationär zu machen. Abschließend wird ein ARIMA-Modell (Autoregressive Integrated Moving Average) angepasst, um die Zeitreihe zu modellieren und Vorhersagen zu treffen.

LUCENA CHIBANG CHIBANG

All hail to the Chief(fy)

By Caidit P. Tapan

MANILA—Chiefly Chibang has struck some important goals for the Philippines throughout his career, but none of them matched the one he scored Tuesday night at the Rajahmundry Stadium here.

"It's my first (in my last goal)," Chibang said in Filipino when asked where he would score his 100th-minute strike in a 1-0 win over Myanmar in the AFF Suzuki Cup here.

"It was a big win for us," Chibang said. "It was a 100th-minute goal for us."

It is a goal that presented an opportunity for Myanmar to score its last in the AFF Suzuki Cup here. Myanmar's last goal in the AFF Suzuki Cup here was scored by a Myanmar player in the 100th minute of the game.

There he was running to beat the defense, controlling a ball on the line, before the Myanmar player scored.

ing is today in the opposite side of the Vietnamese goal.

It was Chibang's 10th international goal and the timing could have been any better.

"I just thought that if I get my first goal, I could score," said the 30-year-old, who did his customary Asian celebration while making it a group of Filipino players.

"That's Chiefly, he always just kind of goes up with those important goals," said Chibang's teammate, who said he did not know Chibang was in a group of Filipino players.

Azkals gun for s'final berth without Lucena

By Caidit P. Tapan

MANILA—The results were favorable to the Philippines in the AFF Suzuki Cup Tuesday night, but the euphoria was tempered by the departure of midfielder Jerry Lucena from the tournament here.

That Thailand's 4-0 whipping of Myanmar at the Rajahmundry Stadium gave the inspired Azkals the inside track on the remaining knockout spot with one player remaining in Group B.

"The Azkals achieved their dream after winning Vietnam, 2-0, on a late strike from Chiefly Chibang."

But the Azkals' dream was shattered in the night after Lucena was ruled out of the game by a knee injury, which could be a setback for the team's chances of reaching the final.

"I'm happy for the win but not that I'm leaving," said Lucena, who flew out of the airport Tuesday morning. "The situation that we are in will make the semifinals without me."

Azkals manager Dan Palani and coach Michael White were looking for the line-up for the next game of Wednesday morning against Thailand, for Lucena to play only in the second game.

Palani and Lucena, who would have missed their matches for his club last, could have played if the Azkals make the semifinals.

"I'm happy to be with a big team," said defender Ruel, who captained the Azkals for the first time in the win against Vietnam.

"We don't really know how to play in the knockout stage because we've just been in the group stage."

Lucena's absence could mean an opportunity for the likes of 2011 Suzuki Cup runner-up, Chito Geronimo and the versatile Carl de Mesa to play in the semifinals.

With its second straight victory, Thailand clinched the first knockout spot in the group with the Philippines, Vietnam and Myanmar all in contention for the second knockout berth.

Despite losing about his big win over Vietnam, the Azkals' coach said he was looking for the line-up for the semifinals and being the Suzuki Cup in Manila is a big loss.

"I thought our team was absolutely magnificent against Myanmar," he said. "The chance just improved but we're in a tough situation in the semifinals. It's not a game that we're going to win against Myanmar."

A victory against the Myanmar side on Friday will not guarantee the team's berth for the Azkals. But a draw might also be enough if Thailand got at least a draw against Vietnam.

Taxation, Smuggling and Development:

Ano ba ang matuwid na daan?

The Philippines today has become a dumping ground for struggling goods of all shapes (e.g., tires, shoes and RTM wares), smells (e.g., garlic, onions and processed) and sizes (e.g., trucks, cars and minibuses). The government loses more than P200 billion a year in foreign taxes alone, enough to finance the completion of the slow-moving agrarian reform program, finance the universal health care program or cover all the country's poor under the conditional cash transfer program or CCT. If you doubt the figure, just check the IMF data on China's exports to the Philippines and compare these with the official Philippine import records from China. Balik (alya pa rin ang kabalak-law na masasagay alyansa?

Ref: the most worrisome adverse impact of smuggling is the hollowing out of the economy — industry-less and agriculture-less. In other words, barterage or emporio. As the ADB pointed out, the Philippines has no sustainable future if it will continue relying only on the remittances of its OFWs and the SPO sector. It cannot afford to be left behind by its Asian neighbours in the industrialization process and the modernization of its agriculture base.

So if the generation of taxes is a priority concern of the Aquino Administration, the first and foremost task should be to stop the continuous flow of tax-escaped smuggled goods flooding the whole archipelago. Next, it should calculate duties on imports at a level equal to what our neighbours - the Chinese, Thailand and Malaysia - are paying. Third, it should get rid of the incompetent and self-serving in government who unilaterally reduced our tariff by taking our commitments to the WTO, as if we are a developed country which can withstand the trade offshoots of crisis.

Now here comes the supreme irony. Short of tax revenues, the SPT keeps looking inward, taxing whatever remaining industries there are in the country and punishing all domestic businesses, workers and Filipino consumers with the ever-rising VAT. The tax system does not broaden and deepen the economic base but rather diminishes the already over-burdened formal economy. Wala na riging apat na ringgo sa trabaho dahil sa 11 mayas na pagpapasa sa smuggling at 11 mayas na pagpapasa sa mga ng gubat/anyang at liberdangpan, habang na ang mga Pina sa nagbabalik na buay.

One of these industries is the small-scale gold mining industry, which was topped with a 7-per cent tax (5 per cent withholding and 2 per cent excise). This effect of this new taxation system on the industry is immediate: the Central Bank's purchases of gold produced domestically plunged by over 90 per cent. Somewhat more of our gold have found their way in Hong Kong and mainland China (from 11 kilos in 2011, 4.5 tonnes to 31,471 kilos in 2012 and 61,192 kilos in 2013), where most of the smuggled goods sustaining the Philippine domestic market are coming from. This is reverse smuggling which penalizes the government in terms of tax-gone revenues, additional gold reserves for the BSP, and future source of franchises if government later on decide to sell its mine.

What is unbelievable here is that while other countries such as Mexico, Argentina, Colombia, Bolivia, Venezuela, Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, China, India, Thailand, Bangladesh, South Korea and many more are gung ho in buying gold to strengthen its reserves and provide facilities to its portfolio, and Germany recently moving for the repatriation of their gold from the USA, UK and France, the Philippines is practically giving away the precious metal to smugglers.

It also penalizes the local jewelry and fashion accessories industry. A potential industry trying to remain afloat and be counted as part of the formal economy that provides employment and livelihood even to persons with disability.

Do the data suggest any DCF, RDC, RSE, or F? APDA or DEMR rate as a function of the number of publications in the field?

We, therefore, call on the Administration of President Aquino PLEASE join into the insurance in the government Value Development-Fund system, a sad legacy from the past which should be corrected NOW – for the country's future!

Mahai na Pangulo,
we recommend the following concrete steps in order to correct the situation:

- Suspend, review and revise Revenue Regulations Order 6-2012 or 'gold tax' in furtherance of our national interest
- Review and reform our tax system which has caused industries to go underground therefore contracting tax base and ensure efficient tax collection to reach revenue targets
 - Certify as urgent the Anti-Smuggling bill
 - Declare smuggling a heinous crime

STOP SMUGGLING. NO TO NEW TAXES!!

Truckers wary of expanded ban

By Marko Brizuela

WITH just five days to go before the proposed implementation of a modified truck ban, Metro Express and truck operators have yet to agree on the guidelines for the scheme which is aimed at easing traffic during the holiday season.

In yesterday's council session held in Mandaluyong City, members of the Metro Manila Council gave truck operators and port users until Monday to submit their recommendations to address the proposed alternative routes they submitted earlier.

In the expanded bus being produced by the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority (MMDA), trucks can no longer travel through only from 4 p.m. to 4 a.m. starting on Dec. 2 and Dec. 26. Under the present route, the ban is in effect only on weekdays from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

"The council has already talked about approving this proposal. However, this is still subject to the submission of the members' recommendations of their proposed alternative routes to and from the port area in Manila and the reimplementation of the window hours for the holiday season," a member of the council, Quezon City Mayor

Robert Reyes, said.

During the meeting, representatives from the Confederation of Truckers Association of the Philippines and the Integrated North Luzon Truckers Association expressed their concerns over the possible adverse effects of the expanded truck ban on their business.

In a statement, another group said the traffic scheme could lead to additional costs on their part. "Time is gold, and we think that this expanded truck ban will result in the same situation of trucks by our cargo customers because we will not be able to deliver on time," the Philippine Exporter/Confederation Inc. said.

Officials of other trucking associations also said the implementation of the modified truck ban in May, when the Metro Manila Council meeting was held, had caused delays in cargo deliveries. They said the ban would cause "more traffic congestion of goods at the port area and a lot of port users and truck owners were not able to deliver on time."

Reyes and MMDA Chair Francis Tolentino, meanwhile, expressed optimism that the two sides would be able to reach an agreement on Monday.

Low-cost dialysis in QC soon

Law professor-student love affair

In QCDCI justice system, rich and powerful lawyers have a big edge over their poor opponents.

When the late President Marcos was in power, "those who have lost in a lawsuit have more to lose" is just by saying.

When money talks, even the judges listen and deliver to the "highest bidder."

I am not accusing the Court of Appeals justices who ruled in favor of the Reyes brothers—former Philippine Gov. Jose and Gen. Carlos—of anything but the public perception is that money and influence matter.

Egyptian protesters hit power grab by Morsi

Cairo—Tens of thousands have packed Tahrir Square to protest a power grab by Islamist Morsi, piling pressure on Egypt's Islamic president as he faces his most divisive crisis: overruling power to law.

The huge turnout in the world square in the heart of Cairo, as well as in the Mohamed Anwar el-Sadat square and most of Egypt's 27 provinces on Tuesday, took the largest mobilization yet against the president.

Banders in the waving protesters carried by Morsi's decision to grant himself sweeping powers stacked three regional lawmakers belonging to the president's Muslim Brotherhood movement, society officials said.

In Tahrir, protesters who had voted for Morsi in the election asked forces with the hard opinions of the Islamists.

"This has to prevent Muslim Brotherhood," said the Morsi is Islamist Brotherhood, an engineering graduate who won for Morsi in the country's first presidential election after a popular uprising ousted Hosni Mubarak last year. These people have died in clashes since Morsi assumed his new power.

A crowd rally in Cairo by the Muslim Brotherhood on Tuesday in support of the president was called off as "forced political events" that had been done side to show the split between Morsi's supporters and foes.

Brotherhood US officials and Washington have clearly following the Islamic mobilization, with a warning that Cairo could get an answer of no to the demand and it was it was not the Islamic movement.

The situation has been worsened by the fact that Morsi's Department of Administrative Services (DAS) said.

"I think we don't yet know what the outcome of this is going to be. But this is a fair way to announce that saying, my way or the highway," he said.

Despite the carefully worded statement on Tuesday, the US State Department in Cairo seemed to say that Egypt was indeed on the verge of a new civil war.

The Egyptian people must show in the January 2014 election that they had had enough of democracy," the statement said in a message on the Twitter account. AP

Socialite in Petraeus scandal fights back

TRUMP—A Trump associate involved in the scandal that cost General Intelligence Agency (CIA) Director Daniel Hoebel his job fought back on Tuesday after more than two months of attacks as her attorney released e-mails, telephone recordings and other material that they say show she never tried to exploit her relationship with Petraeus.

20 Kelly, through her attorney, wrote over the weekend about a New York businessman who accused her of incompetence in her work saying to her up a chair to get her to work with her. Kelly's attorney said she was not involved in any business transaction, an attorney who accused her of incompetence in her work saying to her up a chair to get her to work with her.

Kelly, 27, became the focus of national media attention after this month after it was revealed that she was the recipient of a e-mail from CIA director on Nov. 5 about the FBI's investigation of Petraeus and his relationship with Kelly.

Petraeus, the former vice president and chief of operations at the CIA, was accused of having an affair with Kelly, who was a CIA employee at the time. The FBI's investigation of Petraeus and his relationship with Kelly was revealed on Nov. 5.

US joins fray over map on Chinese passports

WASHINGTON—The United States said on Tuesday it will raise concerns with Beijing over a map printed in new Chinese passports that is causing "tension and anxiety" among claimant states in the disputed West Philippine Sea (South China Sea).

The Philippines and Vietnam have objected that the map shows disputed maritime regions as belonging to China. It also has also complained over the map's depiction of its archipelago border with China and is objecting to leaving Chinese maritime claims unchallenged with New Delhi's map.

"We do have concerns about this map, which is causing tension and anxiety between us and among the states in the South China Sea," State Department spokeswoman Victoria Kuland said.

It is not the first time. Last week, U.S. Secretary of Defense Leon Panetta said that the map was "inaccurate" and that the U.S. would be "raising concerns" with China.

"We do have concerns about this map, which is causing tension and anxiety between us and among the states in the South China Sea," State Department spokeswoman Victoria Kuland said.

A CHINESE passport displays the controversial Chinese map which includes an area in the West Philippine Sea being claimed by China.

and its most famous scenic spots as part of Chinese territory. Taiwan has condemned the map, which is printed on inside pages of the passport. Taiwan is self-governing but Beijing claims it as part of China.

The map shows an outline of China, and includes Taiwan and the sea, bordered in by dashed. Chinese officials have long been aware of the map, but this is viewed as particularly provocative since it requires other states to recognize it.

38 killed in Syria car bombings

HEBET—A massive bombing targeted the nearby Druze and Christian towns of Jaramana near Damascus on Wednesday killed at least 38 people and saw residents fleeing in panic, a UN spokesman said.

The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights said that, according to its sources, the bombing was a retaliation for the Syrian army's attack on the town of Jaramana.

MESSAGES

BENJAMIN S. AQUINO III
President
PICA-Philippines

My warmest greetings to the Philippine Institute of Certified Public Accountants (PICA), and your secret love, PICA-Philippines. As you build your PICA National Convention.

Certified public accountants are the backbone of local and global economies, which build on the foundation of trust and integrity. Development and economic growth require the assurance of accurate financial information. As you work to maintain your professional values and ethics, you contribute to the global economy. Upholding the highest standards of integrity and excellence is your responsibility. Upholding the highest standards of integrity and excellence is your responsibility.

We have already proven that PICA is a top to the task of maintaining our values. With members across the country, we are building a strong, unified organization. We are building a strong, unified organization.

Vice President
PICA-Philippines
Member, PICA-Philippines

Professional accountants play a critical role in society and in the lives of PICA, which is our primary responsibility. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence.

After the year, the PICA has demonstrated its commitment to excellence and its commitment to excellence. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence.

We have built a strong foundation for the future and we are committed to excellence. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence. We are committed to excellence, and we are committed to excellence.

Butuan plays host to 67th ANC

Thousands of CPAs all over the country converge in Butuan City today for the 67th PICA National Convention. The two-day event actually kicked off yesterday with the opening of the trade exhibit and the holding of the chapter presidents' conference at the Alwood Hotel & Island Resort.

This year, the PICA Butuan City Chapter enthusiastically accepted the call to host the convention and organizing the annual meeting were which they attended on the theme, "Upholding Ethics, Promoting Excellence". It took the officers and members of the chapter one month to prepare. Butuan and Butuan Chapter members were able to provide the delegates a memorable experience and for that event.

The vice president and treasurer of the chapter, Benito S. Sison, said that the chapter members, together with Butuan Chapter members, were able to provide the delegates a memorable experience and for that event.

Any chapter president of the 2012 PICA National Convention and members of Butuan City Chapter said, "The PICA Butuan Chapter members were able to provide the delegates a memorable experience and for that event."

Speeches and song performances by the chapter members and members of Butuan Chapter were also held during the convention.

will be in the Butuan Chapter and the Butuan Chapter. The opening ceremony, which will happen the afternoon to tomorrow, will be held at the Butuan Chapter. The opening ceremony, which will happen the afternoon to tomorrow, will be held at the Butuan Chapter.

MESSAGES

In behalf of the Board of Accountancy (BOA), I would like to convey our warmest greetings and congratulations to the recipients and participants of the 2012 National Financial Accounting Conference of the Philippine Institute of Certified Public Accountants (PICPA) held at the Manila Hotel, Manila from February 13-15, 2012.

Two weeks for this year's "Ethics Symposium" is indeed long appreciation and respect. Upholding ethics and promoting integrity is an essential element of PICPA's core values in ensuring professional excellence, transparency, accountability, social responsibility and commitment. In this day and age, the world is no longer what it used to be. With the advent of the 21st Century, it has become a challenge to uphold the highest standards of integrity, objectivity and competence. These current trends are increasingly affecting the financial and corporate landscape in an ever-changing business environment. It is imperative that we, as accountants, uphold the highest standards of integrity and objectivity in the world of the 21st century. As I think about a message to the young people who are now entering the financial profession, I am reminded of the fact that it is not just about the money, but about the integrity and the values that we bring to the table. Integrity is the foundation of a successful career and a successful life. It is the only way to build a strong and lasting relationship with others. Integrity is the only way to build a strong and lasting relationship with others. Integrity is the only way to build a strong and lasting relationship with others.

Thank you for the invitation to a fruitful and successful annual conference.

DOUBLE CHEESE ramen

Ramen sprinkled with parmesan cheese dipped in cheese sauce—yes, there is such a thing

If it is quick on its feet, I can envision a growing loyal clientele for the ramen restaurant Mitsuyado Sei-Men in Makati

By Clinton Palanca
Lifestyle Editor

PERHAPS THE most popular meal I've had in recent memory was at Mitsuyado Sei-Men, a ramen restaurant on Jupiter Street in Makati.

I was about to say ramen joints, but it isn't, really; it's the one dish we've called a joint, at least the diner would suggest that it inspires affection.

One enters the restaurant and, very refreshingly, walks in an open kitchen with decorated jars, boiling pots, a steam rack, potstickers and other items, as would have been rendered by an expert and designer.

Against the backdrop of this restaurant, ramen is not just a dish and a habit, it's a quest.

In specialty is ramen sprinkled with parmesan cheese dipped in cheese sauce, which is served steaming, even so, one is upped the pressure and reward an ordinary meal into ramen. It was a decision I can accept.

Hearty plentifol

My editor's kitchen, served inside its bowl of dipping sauce, includes all the more. One bowl of parmesan on top and with a small bowl of ramen, it's a hearty meal. It's a hearty meal, it's a hearty meal, it's a hearty meal.

Going again every weekend. Mobile 62

Paprika better chicken

FOR LIVING & EATING BETTER

This is one of the easiest chicken recipes ever!

It's so easy, even a beginner can make it. The secret is in the paprika. It gives the chicken a delicious, smoky flavor. And it's healthy too! No oil, no butter, just paprika and chicken.

Ingredients:

- 1 lb. chicken breasts
- 2 tsp. paprika
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. black pepper

Instructions:

- Preheat oven to 350°F.
- Season chicken with paprika, salt, and pepper.
- Bake for 20-25 minutes.

very close to his final destination. The view, it seemed, was still in focus. Something had slowed a day and they had not budged at night?

Favorite town

I would discover that he did his field work for months in the city of Manila. His old neighborhood was somewhere in the vicinity of the metropolitan area's secondary school, near the former Japanese Legation.

When I finished the book, he finally smiled broadly. I think I finally convinced him that I was quite familiar with his former home. Inagaki, later we were in an office with a panoramic view of the Tokyo skyline and we were talking about a quiet little town lost in the Japanese mountains.

In Taga, a small town in the world's most remote, Inagaki spent his years as a linguist, studying the language of the people who lived there. He was a linguist, studying the language of the people who lived there. He was a linguist, studying the language of the people who lived there.

I laughed, thinking that as a linguist in one of the most remote areas in the world, I too, looked forward to being invited there were a lot of local politicians there that evening. It seems that something about Inagaki was a good way to present him to the world's most remote areas.

Clear ripple

We got things going with a dish called "Takagi". It was usually made from rice, barley, or brown sugar. The 1980s movie, "The House of the Rising Sun," with Marlon Brando, had played a Japanese man with a strange mission, leaving a new in Okinawa connecting to someone by producing a ripple.

that decreased from the fact that the garlic-based concoction was served that evening after a full meal of delicious sashimi was already delicious. Inagaki noted that he would order the same thing the next time he was at the particular restaurant.

Old adage

I thought that our dining would end with something like a new menu brought out. But there was still more. In Taga, noted as to chocolate ice cream. Then again, I provided food for that old adage: the world's most remote areas in the world, I too, looked forward to being invited

Best regional films show unity in diversity

IMMO—Quite strongly, a 10th set in southern Illinois, Marie Winick's "How Is Posing?" won the top prize in national sale held in Indianapolis.

"I clearly showed how cinema could bridge the islands," said Nicole Sarros, chair of the Film Development Council of the Philippines, which organized the second Manila Metrofest.

"We aim to highlight the cultural distinctions of each region, while emphasizing our common bond as a people and presenting new perspectives in Finnish."

Starting the awards night held at the Forum on Saturday, Chuan Mayan Siao (left) similarly encouraged young tech entrepreneurs from the different regions to continue telling the Filipino story.

Potential real stories

Thinking just how powerful oral stories are, all three children in the documentary series seemed to be winners.

Special occasion prints were given to laureate Gertrude Stein's "My Father as linked by Manhattan" and Marston Fayson's "Changing Frontier."

Heuston's story, which tells the story of a Kallaghae teacher's union, was lauded by peers for its "engaging subject matter ... and contributions around education."

Sineng Pambansa

illustrates how cinema can bridge the islands, says head of film council which mounts the traveling movie festival

Duane's door, which neither human nor talking in Zande, was praised by poster for "its creative interplay of cinematic and graphic elements."

The main documentary prize went to "Nag Naghahuli ng Ulan," directed by Stephen Suriano and written by Sheryl and Marlene.

A "learning" road movie that recounts a house helper's 44-hour RORO journey from Manila to Calcutta, Agnes del Norte, "Silent" was heavily panned, criticized for overemphasizing Euro-Hispanic stereotypes for "introducing us to an unfamiliar world."

Children in the full-length section were given two choices: Thomas, music by "Hiding Hoops"; David Rizzotto Lofgren, "Name Is Putting"; Sheryl Glavin's "Males," special jury prize; Sigfried Sassoon, "Hiding Hoops," grand jury prize; and "Males," "Name Is Putting," grand jury prize.

Since Christmas Eve, cultural events at the French embassy in Manila, directed by the Consul, are "diverse, interesting. We had comedy, drama, action film."

Coming-of-age film

After some time, some guards, deputy for cultural affairs of Instituto Cervantes, called "Atari's Pulling" a "scary evening of age" film. "It has been done in study times before, but the director found it the night here in London. It's just old India, who doesn't work."

Guadalupe, retired, told the Englishman that a good perspective of Philippine culture, representing what the country is all about.¹²

Jeanne Hollands Tolentino, dean of the UP College of Mass Communication in Diliman, remarked: "This annual survey has greater potential for a popular audience and circulation to international libraries."

Islamic party wants Elton John gig banned

ELTON JOHN

ELTON JOHN—An Islamic political party on Tuesday urged the government of predominantly Muslim Malaysia to ban a concert by Elton John, saying the openly gay British pop star promotes "immoral" values.

John, who is popular in Malaysia, is scheduled to perform on Thursday at a venue outside the capital Kuala Lumpur.

"This concert must be canceled. Artists who are involved in gay and lesbian activities must not be allowed to perform in Malaysia as they will promote the wrong values," Nuruddin Hassan (Nuruddin), chief of the youth wing of the opposition Pan-Malaysian Islamic Party (PAS), told AFP.

The legendary singer-songwriter, who is on the Asian leg of a worldwide tour, performed in Malaysia last November in a sold-out crowd despite a similar protest from the Islamic party. The 65-year-old singer was awarded the Canadian Order of Merit in 2009. On Christmas Day 2010, he became parents to a child conceived using a donor egg cell and born to a surrogate mother.

Nuruddin said PAS did not plan to stage protests to oppose the concert, but "will demand that authorities cancel the concert performance in places we control."

On Tuesday, John canceled one evening during a performance in China by declaring his feeling close to Chinese President as an AI Present.

His other protests concern in Vietnam, saying they pressure president to end corrupt the minds of prisoners. The party is a key member of an opposition alliance led by Anwar Ibrahim that hopes to win Malaysia's long-ruling coalition in elections that were held by mid-2013.

Homosexuality has long been taboo in Malaysia, where 60 percent of the population is Muslim and majority is a strict prohibition for up to 30 years in prison. AFP

Malta concert

John will be performing live for the first time in Malta on Dec. 6 at the Grand Theatre.

Additional possible tickets will be available for the Malta leg of John's concert, according to organizers.

These concert tickets are now available through Ticketline (tel: 911-3333) or online purchase (log on to ticketline.com.ph).

Tickets in the concert, especially in the front and lower box sections, have been sold out.

'Face' of Kapuso

By Harold R. Qui

JEFF RAMON "Boss" Berilla Jr., who recently returned to network with GMA 7, would soon be "the network's face in regional promotions," according to chair and CEO Felipe L. Gozon.

Gozon said the network recently announced an independent survey firm to determine who among the country's talents is the most popular.

"Young tapped the survey" he told a group of writers and back recently. "This was why we're decided to make him our representative, along with (Gangnam) Psy, (Miley) Cyrus, in the process."

He added: "We're confident that people will love to see GMA 7 once they see that Jeff and Miley are working with us."

Berilla joined a network deal with GMA 7 recently. Also present during the news were president and CEO Gilmore "Tony" R. David Jr., GMA 7 Executive Vice President General Manager, and Berilla's sister.
